INFORMATION WE COLLECT AND INFORMATION YOU PROVIDE

This Online Privacy Policy applies to information collected from, or which may be submitted to, the EPC website. We do not collect any personally identifiable information about visitors to the publicly available areas of our website, including any visitors’ names, addresses, phone numbers, social security numbers or email addresses. We may collect email addresses of visitors who choose to sign up via the “Contact” page to receive our company e-newsletters. Our website uses “cookies” technology, through which small amounts of data are sent to your computer from our web server and stored on your computer’s hard drive. This data identifies you as a unique user when visiting our website, and helps us in the ongoing maintenance and security of our website. This technology does not provide us with any personally identifiable information.

HOW WE USE INFORMATION WE MAY COLLECT

We do not share any information collected from the publicly available areas of our website with any parties outside of our company. In the event that a visitor submits their email address or any other personally identifiable information to us via our website while requesting information or sending any email to someone at EPC, other than as described above, we never use such information for any other purpose, and will not disclose such information to any outside party.
